New Features Highlight 1968 Pickaway County Fair

A brand new Pickaway County Fair opens Sunday, featuring a host of innovations designed to make the 23rd annual event bigger and better than ever.

The accent will be on youth at the fair with 1,260 plus 4-H members exhibiting over 2,000 projects.

The 1968 features of the exposition include new opening and closing days, a free gate (although a charge will be made for parking) and a number of special grandstand attractions.

In past years with livestock shows, flower judging and other competition, Saturday has offered little to attract fairgoers.

BECAUSE of this the fairboard has elected to officially open the event one day earlier — noon Sunday — and close it Friday night.

The free gate has been considered by the fair board for many years as a way to increase attendance at the event. This year, they decided to experiment.

A charge will be made for parking automobiles on the Fairgrounds, which will compensate slightly for any loss of revenue. The fairboard hopes the remainder of the loss of income will be made up by increased attendance at the grandstand attractions.

A new air conditioned building has been erected at the Fairgrounds to house the flower and garden show.

The first of the grandstand attractions is a pony pull 2:36 p.m. Sunday.

At 8 p.m., the annual Talent and King and Queen contests will be held in the grandstand on the new portable stage built by fairboard members.

THE contest in past years has been the main attraction of the entire fair.

The annual tractor pulling contest scheduled 7 p.m. Monday, takes on a new look with a weight-transfer device designed to eliminate the older methods.

A parade of power will precede the tractor pulling contest.

Tuesday is the only night for which there is no grandstand attraction.

Chicago and Suburb Hit By Outbreak of Violence

Dozen Injured As Vandals Smash Store

CHICAGO (AP) — More than a dozen persons were injured Thursday night when Negro youths vandalized a food store on Chicago's North Side. In suburban Maywood another crowd smashed store windows after police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the village hall.

Twenty-five persons were arrested in Maywood. Three were held on disorderly conduct charges after the Chicago disturbance.

In Maywood, an integrated city of 30,000 15 miles west of Chicago's downtown section, trouble started after a meeting of a local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Discussions at the meeting centered on the lack of a swimming pool in Maywood—a long-standing complaint of the community's 10,000 Negroes.

A police spokesman said after the NAACP meeting about 300 Negro youths marched a mile to the Maywood Village Hall, where the village board was meeting on the second floor.

Officials refused to permit the entire group to enter the meeting. Police, whose headquarters is on the first floor, asked the youths to disperse. After they refused and became boisterous police hurled teargas canisters at them.

One of the youths picked up a canister and hurled it back into the village hall, Police Sgt. Grady Rivers said. Policemen in the hall donned gas masks.

Foreign Aid At New Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under heavy battering by both House and Senate, the authorization for President Johnson's foreign aid program will be the lowest in 21 years of overseas assistance.

The latest slashes were made Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which trimmed $25 million out of the military aid section, putting it at $365 million.

President Johnson had asked $420 million for military aid in a total request of $2.9 billion. As reported to the floor by the Foreign Relations Committee the total authorization would be $1.94 billion.

The House had approved a $1.99 billion measure.

Acting committee Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he hopes the Senate will act on the authorization bill before Congress adjourns for the August recess next week.

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — When Dr. Jerry L. Coles, Public Health Service physician, noted the casualties from four blanket toss festivals he found: One dislocated elbow, two foot fractures, one broken ankle, one fractured coccyx, four sprained ankles, one acute back strain and one knee injury.

Guard Back in Cleveland Slums

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — National Guardsmen and white police returned to Cleveland's Negro slums Thursday night to enforce a dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed by Mayor Carl Stokes. There were 30 arrests Thursday night. Two persons were seized looting, one was arrested on an arson charge and 27 were curfew violators. Several small fires broke out on the East Side, where 10 persons—including three policemen—were killed in shootings Tuesday.

Disturbances were reported in the Harvard-Lee section about five miles southeast of the cordoned-off area. A group of 200 Negroes gathered and a cleaning store was firebombed. A clothing store was looted but police quickly dispersed the crowd.

The loss from fires and looting in the East Side has been estimated at $1.5 million by Joseph C. Boggins, executive vice president of the Insurance Board of Cleveland.

Wednesday, Stokes chose to let black community leaders try to control the tense situation. He reversed that stand Thursday. He apparently had no choice. Several members of the mayor's committee told newsmen they would not act as peace-makers Thursday night because they had seen evidence of professional looters coming in from out of town and they feared they could not control these elements.

They said if widespread looting began, the young people of the community might join in and, if a situation got out of control, the black leaders would shoulder the blame.

Fifty of the leaders voted to "return the city to the mayor," and Stokes, speaking with emotion, read the curfew edict.

He said that the curfew and return of the guardsmen did not mean the use of the black leaders was a failure, but the move may have cost him the confidence of the Negro community.

"It was a hell of a gamble," one city official said, "a tremendous political coup if it worked. Now it is going to be read as a bum decision."

Meanwhile, his decision Wednesday not to impose a curfew also drew criticism.

Cleveland Negro Patrols Use 'Whitey' As Bogey Man

By AUSTIN SCOTT Associated Press Writer CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's peacekeeping civilians helped disperse Negro crowds by telling them police were looking for an excuse to shoot up their neighborhoods. Are such strong tactics really necessary?

The consensus of the volunteers, both militants and moderates, is that they are. Potential unruly residents speak their own language, they say, and as Romie Stephens, a corporation executive, put it: "When in France, speak French."

Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes, who approved the plan, said the main peacekeeping problem was getting crowds off the streets. And the crowds the patrol was worried about were teenagers.

Just how hard it is was illustrated Wednesday night in a series of shouting, nose-to-nose confrontations by Stephens and others with a group of about 50 youngsters bent on looting a still undamaged record shop.

They were openly discussing what to take first when patrol members arrived.

"I know it ain't gonna do no good to tell you to go home," one patrol member shouted to a slender youth who had been egging others on. "I told you to go home two hours ago over on Superior Avenue and you ain't gone yet. But if you won't think of nothin' else, please don't get these women and children in trouble."

"Man, the cops ain't gonna get me," the kid boasted, not yet understanding the drift of the argument.

"The cops won't get you and they won't get me," Stephens cut in. "They'll come in here..."

Black Militant In Cleveland Held in Jail

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wearing white pajamas and sandals, Fred (Ahmed) Evans, a Black Nationalist leader and astrologer, appeared in Municipal Court today to answer charges growing out of a sniper attack on police in the Glenville area Tuesday night.

Evans, 37, entered pleas of innocent through his attorney to charges of shooting with intent to kill a police tow truck operator, possession of narcotics and possession of an automatic rifle.

Judge Ray C. Miller set bond at $100,000 on the intent to kill charge and at $75,000 on each of the other charges. Evans was returned to jail to await a preliminary hearing set by Judge Miller for Aug. 7.

Outspoken Critic of Soviet Policy Removed by Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders, awaiting decisive talks with the Soviet Communist party Politburo, were urged by pacemakers of this country's liberalization drive today to "defend unitedly the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

The appeal came amid mounting concern over rumors that the leadership was split on how to react to Soviet pressure at the showdown meeting likely to begin next week.

The rumors were fed by the decision Thursday of the policy-making party presidium to remove Lt. Gen. Vaclav Prchlik, a chief target of Soviet attacks, from a key position in the party Central Committee.

The presidium ordered Prchlik back to army service and abolished the political department of the party which he headed. It controlled the army, security police and judiciary.

This was an apparent move to conciliate the Kremlin.

The Russian propaganda war against the Czechoslovak leadership continued unabated. The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda attacked the departures from orthodox communism and said it was impossible to understand why these were not suppressed.

Usually reliable sources said they understood the decision in Prchlik's case had not the unanimous backing of the 11-member presidium.

Liberal Communist intellectuals voiced alarm over this indication of yielding to pressure from abroad at a time when popular support for the Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek, had reached a new peak.

Editors of Literarni Listy, a writers weekly and influential mouthpiece of the liberal elite, prepared an extra with an open letter calling on party leaders to negotiate and explain, "but unitedly defend the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

Gls Wait For Attack On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Mud-caked American GIs defending the approaches to Saigon exhibit a mixture of dread, confidence and impatience as they prepare for the third battle of Saigon.

Warned by their commanders that the third offensive of the year against South Vietnam's capital, may be the biggest battle of the war, quite a number voice fervent hopes that some other unit will bear the brunt of the fighting.

Sitting at the edge of a rice paddy, hands cupped around cigarettes in the monsoon shower, combat infantrymen don't talk about the strategic importance of the battle, how it might affect the Paris peace talks or what would happen in Saigon if the enemy again breaks through the city's outer defense perimeter.

Instead the talk is of chances for survival, whether the unit will be rotated out of a particularly dangerous area before the attack opens, whether intelligence can possibly be right about the large number of battalions facing them.

Bolivia Regime Falls Apart In Scandal

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The government of President Rene Barrientos fell apart Thursday night after the revelation that his interior minister was an ally of Fidel Castro and had smuggled a copy of Che Guevara's captured diary to Cuba.

The Social Democratic party quit the four-party government coalition earlier in the day, withdrawing its four members of the Cabinet. The other 12 Cabinet members submitted their resignations.

Military leaders met in an atmosphere of crisis as unrest mounted around Barrientos, the former commander of the air force. A senator was arrested.

The president told newsmen rumors of a coup were unfounded.

He said he expected the armed forces to remain loyal to him "except if special circumstances intervene." He did not explain this cryptic remark.

The president's troubles started when the Castro government published the diary which Ernesto "Che" Guevara kept during his abortive guerrilla campaign in Bolivia last year.

The Bolivian government seized the diary after its troops killed the Cuban guerrilla leader and planned to sell it to foreign publishers, but Castro gave it to selected foreign publishers free, killing the sale for the Bolivians.

An army investigation revealed that Interior Minister Antonio Arguedas had slipped the diary out to Castro, and Arguedas and his brother fled to Chile. Granted asylum there Wednesday night, the former minister told a news conference he was a Marxist humanist and an admirer of Castro.

Swiss Apologize To Liechtenstein

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — The border war between Switzerland and Liechtenstein ended today with the Swiss apologizing to the tiny principality.

Liechtenstein's newspaper had protested that Swiss traffic cops were repeatedly violating Liechtenstein's sovereignty by chasing offending motorists over the frontier.

Today the police chief of the neighboring Swiss canton of St. Gall presented his apologies to the government of Liechtenstein, its 21,000 people and the 18-man army.

Sentence Viet Peace Leader

Given Five Years By Military Court

SAIGON (AP) — A military court sentenced the runner-up in last fall's presidential election to five years at hard labor today for advocating peace talks between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The five-man court found Truong Dinh Dzu, the 51-year-old peace candidate in the October election, guilty of "actions harmful to the anti-Communist fighting spirit of the South Vietnamese people and armed forces."

The trial lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

Since Dzu, a lawyer, ran second to Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu last fall and then led opposition candidates in accusing the military junta of stealing the election, he has spent much of the time under detention on various charges and pretexts.

In the trial today, the government charged that Dzu in interviews with British and American newsmen urged talks with the Liberation Front and a coalition government including the Communists. Dzu contended, that he had advocated talks and coalition only with non-Communist members of the NLF.

Communism and neutralism are outlawed by South Vietnam's constitution, and the government refuses to consider talks with the Viet Cong. The verdict and the sentence were not unexpected since the same court on Thursday gave a five-year sentence to the 23-year-old publisher of South Vietnam's leading student newspaper for publishing articles the government said were pro-Communist.

Ohio Road Toll 1,032 This Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio had only two death-free days on its highways during the first six months of 1968.

Traffic accidents caused 1,032 deaths in the state during that period and one person was killed every four hours and 14 minutes over the 182-day span.

Figures released today by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety noted that urban deaths fell from 360 in 1967 to 356 in 1968 while rural fatalities showed a drop from 719 to 676.

The only deathless days were Jan. 8 and Jan. 14. By counties, the toll ranged from 107 in Cuyahoga to none in Jackson, the only death-free area in the state.

Kettering and Cleveland Heights were the only cities in the state with 50,000 or more population which failed to record single traffic deaths during the first half of 1968, the department reported.

Cleveland led the big cities with 58 fatalities, 20 of them pedestrians. Cincinnati was next with 43, Akron with 22, Columbus 19, Toledo 17, Canton 15, Dayton 12, Youngstown seven, Lorain and Springfield five each, Parma and Warren four each, and Hamilton, Lakewood and Lima with two.

He said that the curfew and return of the guardsmen did not mean the use of the black leaders was a failure, but the move may have cost him the confidence of the Negro community.

"It was a hell of a gamble," one city official said, "a tremendous political coup if it worked. Now it is going to be read as a bum decision."

Meanwhile, his decision Wednesday not to impose a curfew also drew criticism.

Cleveland Negro Patrols Use 'Whitey' As Bogey Man

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's peacekeeping civilians helped disperse Negro crowds by telling them police were looking for an excuse to shoot up their neighborhoods. Are such strong tactics really necessary?

The consensus of the volunteers, both militants and moderates, is that they are. Potentially unruly residents speak their own language, they say, and as Romie Stephens, a corporation executive, put it: "When in France, speak French."

Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes, who approved the plan, said the main peacekeeping problem was getting crowds off the streets. And the crowds the patrol was worried about were teen-agers.

Just how hard it was illustrated Wednesday night in a series of shouting, nose-to-nose confrontations by Stephens and others with a group of about 50 youngsters bent on looting a still undamaged record shop.

They were openly discussing what to take first when patrol members arrived.

"I know it ain't gonna do no good to tell you to go home," one patrol member shouted to a slender youth who had been egging others on. "I told you to go home two hours ago over on Superior Avenue and you ain't gone yet. But if you won't think of nothin' else, please don't get these women and children in trouble."

"Man, the cops ain't gonna get me," the kid boasted, not yet understanding the drift of the argument.

"The cops won't get you and they won't get me," Stephens cut in. "They'll come in here..."

Black Militant In Cleveland Held in Jail

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wearing white pajamas and sandals, Fred (Ahmed) Evans, a Black Nationalist leader and astrologer, appeared in Municipal Court today to answer charges growing out of a sniper attack on police in the Glenville area Tuesday night.

Evans, 37, entered pleas of innocent through his attorney to charges of shooting with intent to kill a police tow truck operator, possession of narcotics and possession of an automatic rifle.

Judge Ray C. Miller set bond at $100,000 on the intent to kill charge and at $75,000 on each of the other charges. Evans was returned to jail to await a preliminary hearing set by Judge Miller for Aug. 7.

posed to love black people," he said. "If you love black people, you won't throw their lives away."

"Our lives don't mean nothin' to the white man," another peacekeeper was saying to a different crowd on the same corner. "So why would we sell 'em to him so cheap? Every time you bring whitey in here, he shoots a bunch of us down."

That stopped the youth for a moment, and Stephens pressed his advantage, playing also to the crush of other youths who had crowded around to listen.

Outspoken Critic of Soviet Policy Removed by Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders, awaiting decisive talks with the Soviet Communist party Politburo, were urged by pacemakers of this country's liberalization drive today to "defend unitedly the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

The appeal came amid mounting concern over rumors that the leadership was split on how to react to Soviet pressure at the showdown meeting likely to begin next week.

The rumors were fed by the decision Thursday of the policy-making party presidium to remove Lt. Gen. Václav Prchlik, a chief target of Soviet attacks, from a key position in the party Central Committee.

The presidium ordered Prchlik back to army service and abolished the political department of the party which he headed. It controlled the army, security police and judiciary.

This was an apparent move to conciliate the Kremlin.

The Russian propaganda war against the Czechoslovak leadership continued unabated. The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda attacked the departures from orthodox communism and said it was impossible to understand why these were not suppressed.

Usually reliable sources said they understood the decision in Prchlik's case had not the unanimous backing of the 11-member presidium.

Liberal Communist intellectuals voiced alarm over this indication of yielding to pressure from abroad at a time when popular support for the Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek, had reached a new peak.

Editors of Literarni Listy, a writers weekly and influential mouthpiece of the liberal elite, prepared an extra with an open letter calling on party leaders to negotiate and explain, "but unitedly defend the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

Warned by their commanders that the third offensive of the year against South Vietnam's capital may be the biggest battle of the war, quite a number voice fervent hopes that some other unit will bear the brunt of the fighting.

Sitting at the edge of a rice paddy, hands cupped around cigarettes in the monsoon shower, combat infantrymen don't talk about the strategic importance of the battle, how it might affect the Paris peace talks or what would happen in Saigon if the enemy again breaks through the city's outer defense perimeter.

Instead the talk is of chances for survival, whether the unit will be rotated out of a particularly dangerous area before the attack opens, whether intelligence can possibly be right about the large number of battalions facing them.

Swiss Apologize To Liechtenstein

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — The border war between Switzerland and Liechtenstein ended today with the Swiss apologizing to the tiny principality.

Liechtenstein's newspaper had protested that Swiss traffic cops were repeatedly violating Liechtenstein's sovereignty by chasing offending motorists over the frontier.

Today the police chief of the neighboring Swiss canton of St. Gall presented his apologies to the government of Liechtenstein, its 21,000 people and the 18-man army.

Bolivia Regime Falls Apart In Scandal

Interior Minister Flees Country; Linked with Castro

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The government of President Rene Barrientos fell apart Thursday night after the revelation that his interior minister was an ally of Fidel Castro and had smuggled a copy of Che Guevara's captured diary to Cuba.

The Social Democratic party quit the four-party government coalition earlier in the day, withdrawing its four members of the Cabinet. The other 12 Cabinet members submitted their resignations.

Military leaders met in an atmosphere of crisis as unrest mounted around Barrientos, the former commander of the air force. A senator was arrested.

The president told newsmen rumors of a coup were unfounded.

He said he expected the armed forces to remain loyal to him "except if special circumstances intervene." He did not explain this cryptic remark.

The president's troubles started when the Castro government published the diary which Ernesto "Che" Guevara kept during his abortive guerrilla campaign in Bolivia last year.

The Bolivian government seized the diary after its troops killed the Cuban guerrilla leader and planned to sell it to foreign publishers, but Castro gave it to selected foreign publishers free, killing the sale for the Bolivians.

An army investigation revealed that Interior Minister Antonio Arguedas had slipped the diary out to Castro, and Arguedas and his brother fled to Chile. Granted asylum there Wednesday night, the former minister told a news conference he was a Marxist humanist and an admirer of Castro.

Filipinos Want U.S. Bases Kept

Sentence Viet Peace Leader

Given Five Years By Military Court

SAIGON (AP) — A military court sentenced the runner-up in last fall's presidential election to five years at hard labor today for advocating peace talks between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The five-man court found Truong Dinh Dzu, the 51-year-old peace candidate in the October election, guilty of "actions harmful to the anti-Communist fighting spirit of the South Vietnamese people and armed forces."

The trial lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

Since Dzu, a lawyer, ran second to Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu last fall and then led opposition candidates in accusing the military junta of stealing the election, he has spent much of the time under detention on various charges and pretexts.

In the trial today, the government charged that Dzu in interviews with British and American newsmen urged talks with the Liberation Front and a coalition government including the Communists. Dzu contended, that he had advocated talks and coalition only with non-Communist members of the NLF.

Communism and neutralism are outlawed by South Vietnam's constitution, and the government refuses to consider talks with the Viet Cong. The verdict and the sentence were not unexpected since the same court on Thursday gave a five-year sentence to the 23-year-old publisher of South Vietnam's leading student newspaper for publishing articles the government said were pro-Communist.

Ohio Road Toll 1,032 This Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio had only two death-free days on its highways during the first six months of 1968.

Traffic accidents caused 1,032 deaths in the state during that period and one person was killed every four hours and 14 minutes over the 182-day span.

Figures released today by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety noted that urban deaths fell from 360 in 1967 to 356 in 1968 while rural fatalities showed a drop from 719 to 676.

The only death-free days were Jan. 8 and Jan. 14. By counties, the toll ranged from 107 in Cuyahoga to none in Jackson, the only death-free area in the state.

Kettering and Cleveland Heights were the only cities in the state with 50,000 or more population which failed to record single traffic death during the first half of 1968, the department reported.

Cleveland led the big cities with 58 fatalities, 20 of them pedestrians. Cincinnati was next with 43, Akron with 22, Columbus 19, Toledo 17, Canton 15, Dayton 12, Youngstown seven, Lorain and Springfield five each, Parma and Warren four each, and Hamilton, Lakewood and Lima with two.

Rockefeller said he would work to end the arms race and said this country and the Soviets must cooperate to prevent small wars in areas such as the Middle East from mushrooming into big ones.

Despite a long Communist record of broken commitments and the fact that Communist ideology remains hostile, he said, "we must also face the fact that the imperatives of the modern age impose the necessity for peace."

"We have no need to be mesmerized by our perils," Rockefeller said. "The possibility to build the new order we all seek is limited only by our imagination and dedication."

But he said there is no way to know when a "basic accommodation" would be possible. He said a new world order must be established by international cooperation; it cannot be created by any one nation.

an organization of professional lecturers.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a Democratic presidential aspirant, indicated meanwhile he will drop hopes of meeting with North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris to learn first hand the prospects for settlement of the Vietnam war.

McCarthy said in view of the Honolulu communique issued Sunday by President Johnson and South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu, "the chances of my doing any good are significantly reduced."

He said the communique indicating this country will not further reduce its military action in South Vietnam until North Vietnam makes some concessions laid out a position "quite different" from his own.

Rocky Would Institute 'New World Order' If Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says as president he would work toward international creation of "a new world order" based on East-West cooperation instead of conflict.

The Republican presidential contender said he would begin a dialogue with Red China, if elected, to "improve the possibilities of accommodations" with that country as well as the Soviet Union.

Tabulation Shows Small States Hardest Hit by War

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Hampshire, Hawaii and Massachusetts have suffered the highest percentage of men killed in terms of men entering the service since Americans started fighting in the Vietnam war.

This finding, based on an Associated Press tabulation, comes from official combat death totals listed for each state as compared with draft figures and estimated enlistments between Jan. 1, 1961, and May 30, 1968.

The AP count shows New Hampshire has suffered 99 dead from hostile action in the war from among an estimated 7,542 men drafted or who enlisted or, more precisely, .013 per cent of the state's manpower contribution.

Hawaii had 127 dead from among an estimated 12,393 drafted or enlisted during the 89-month period for a loss of .0102 per cent.

Massachusetts gave up 586 killed from an estimated 61,668 put into uniform during the period, or .0095 per cent.

Daley said the Massachusetts senator made the comment during a telephone conversation. Kennedy has made no public response to talk by some Democrats that he would boost the party's chances for victory as the vice presidential nominee.

But the New York Times said today Kennedy has drafted a statement taking himself out of consideration for the nomination.

The story from Washington by Executive Editor James Reston said Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is convinced Kennedy will not be available and is considering McCarthy and Kennedy's brother-in-law Sargent Shriver for the No. 2 spot.

On the Republican side, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., endorsed Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination and an aide to Richard M. Nixon charged the announcement was prompted by the "lure of the vice presidency."

Nixon said Thursday night, "I'm not going to make any deals on the vice presidency." But he said that he had talked to Percy and, "I didn't feel Percy endorsed for this reason."

Judge Rules Public Out Of Hearing

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — A municipal court judge, saying he did not "trust the local communications media" cleared his courtroom of newsmen and spectators Thursday during a preliminary hearing for three men charged with robbery.

Judge James A. Bope said the preliminary hearing would be held in private to insure that the defendants' constitutional rights were not violated.

The hearing was being held for Douglas M. Duron, 20, his brother, Robert L., 21, and Francis E. Ray, 21, in connection with the June 11 robbery of a local service station.

All three also are charged with first-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of service station attendant Vincent P. Goemine, but Thursday's preliminary hearing was on the robbery charges alone.

Judge Bope had permitted newsmen to be present during the hearing while he heard testimony by a police officer, the county coroner and the service station manager.

Then he interrupted testimony by Linda Harris, 17, who was with the men when they were arrested, and ruled that the remainder of the hearing would be held in private.

Police Quell Seattle Mob With Tear Gas

SEATTLE (AP) — Police said they used tear gas Thursday night to break up a group of disorderly persons in the city's predominantly Negro central area.

Officers said the tear gas was used when a group of 50 to 75 youths gathered across the street from Garfield High School. Patrolmen moved in after the gas grenade was fired and the crowd dispersed.

A short time earlier a panel truck was set on fire. August Budnick, 57, told police 20 persons — mostly teenagers — approached his vehicle and tossed firebombs.

Budnick said he was threatened with robbery by two men driving nearby, but was able to escape and make his way to a fire station. He was not injured.

Clark Claims Civil Rights Foes Behind Fortas Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says political partisanship and, in some cases, opposition to civil rights advances are the motives behind many of those who oppose the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

Clark, in an interview, also said the slaying of 10 persons Tuesday in a Cleveland Negro neighborhood was "the random act of a handful of very extreme and violent-prone militants," and not part of a nationwide conspiracy to cause racial unrest.

In discussing President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to move up on the Supreme Court from associate justice to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren, Clark said that "quite clearly there is dominant in the opposition a highly partisan strain that's unfortunate. I don't believe a political affiliation should enter into the qualification for nomination."

He added that "those who oppose securing equal rights and civil rights are opposing the nomination. I would suggest the basis for opposition, in truth, is their opposition to the very great advances that have been made in civil rights under law."

Clark also defended the Justice Department's stand in writing a controversial memorandum to the Senate Judiciary Committee praising Fortas. The department was criticized by opponents of the nomination of trying to propagandize the committee by the memo.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he requested the memo.

Clark said the department always has supported administration nominees for judicial appointments. He cited Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's testimony in support of the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. John D. Coleman to the federal bench.

The sheriff stated that he believes the thieves were probably scared off by the approaching cruiser.

Metric System Urged in Britain

LONDON (AP) — A special official commission recommended today that Britain adopt the metric system of weights and measures by 1975 to conform with the rest of Europe.

The commission, made up of 16 specialists from government and business, said the change-over should start in 1971, when the country switches to decimal currency.

Britain now weighs in ounces, pounds and tons and measures in inches, feet, yards and miles. It also has a few special weights, such as the stone, 14 pounds, and the hundredweight, 112 pounds.

The report pointed out that adoption of the metric system would remove one hindrance to Britain's trade with the European Common Market and the European Free Trade Association.

The disturbance on Chicago's North Side started after a large group of young Negroes listened to talk described as inflammatory, according to Sid Bennett, 35, a Negro who lives in the area.

"About 8 to 10 men, some dressed in African-style garb were inciting the crowd," said Bennett. "They were outside agitators."

Bennett, a karate expert, rescued Mel Larson, 54, a Sun-Times photographer who was beaten around the face and suffered chest injuries, including possible broken ribs by a Negro gang. He was reported in fair condition.

Tabulation Shows Small States Hardest Hit by War

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Hampshire, Hawaii and Massachusetts have suffered the highest percentage of men killed in terms of men entering the service since Americans started fighting in the Vietnam war.

This finding, based on an Associated Press tabulation, comes from official combat death totals listed for each state as compared with draft figures and estimated enlistments between Jan. 1, 1961, and May 30, 1968.

The AP count shows New Hampshire had 127 dead from hostile action in the war from among an estimated 7,542 men drafted or who enlisted or, more precisely, .013 per cent of the state's manpower contribution.

Hawaii had 127 dead from among an estimated 12,393 drafted or enlisted during the 89-month period for a loss of .0102 per cent.

Massachusetts gave up 586 killed from an estimated 61,668 put into uniform during the period, or .0095 per cent.

In effect, the figures suggest that New Hampshire and Hawaii gave up more than 10 dead, and Massachusetts more than nine dead, per 1,000 men taken into service during the Vietnam war period.

In sheer numbers alone, California still has lost the most men, 2,399, according to the latest computerized count compiled only Thursday by the Department of Defense.

New York, second most populous state behind California, follows in the pure-number category with 1,836 war dead. Texas is third with 1,436.

According to numbers alone, California, New York and Texas are followed by four other states with total Vietnam killed amounting to more than 1,000: Pennsylvania (1,407), Illinois (1,261), Ohio (1,252) and Michigan (1,064).

The 10 groups surviving preliminary competition will compete for the national championship on Aug. 17.

Battery Taken

Harry Barthlemas, 317 S. Pickaway St., reported to Circleville Police Friday morning that someone had removed the battery from his car while it was parked at his residence.

Barthlemas said nothing else was disturbed.

Vandals Hit Car

Vandals broke into the car of Charles Leach, a PPG employee from Chillicothe, early Friday morning, taking a gear shift knob and destroying a tachometer.

Leach had left his car unlocked in the company parking lot, according to the sheriff's department. The damage is estimated at $50.

The incident is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

himself available for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Daley said the Massachusetts senator made the comment during a telephone conversation. Kennedy has made no public response to talk by some Democrats that he would boost the party's chances for victory as the vice presidential nominee.

But the New York Times said today Kennedy has drafted a statement taking himself out of consideration for the nomination.

The story from Washington by Executive Editor James Reston said Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is convinced Kennedy will not be available and is considering McCarthy and Kennedy's brother-in-law Sargent Shriver for the No. 2 spot.

On the Republican side, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., endorsed Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination and an aide to Richard M. Nixon charged the announcement was prompted by the "hure of the vice presidency."

Nixon said Thursday night, "I'm not going to make any deals on the vice presidency." But he said that he had talked to Percy and, "I didn't feel Percy endorsed for this reason."

Judge Rules Public Out Of Hearing

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — A municipal court judge, saying he did not "trust the local communications media" cleared his courtroom of newsmen and spectators Thursday during a preliminary hearing for three men charged with robbery.

Judge James A. Bope said the preliminary hearing would be held in private to insure that the defendants' constitutional rights were not violated.

The hearing was being held for Douglas M. Duron, 20, his brother, Robert L., 21, and Francis E. Ray, 21, in connection with the June 11 robbery of a local service station.

All three also are charged with first-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of service station attendant Vincent P. Goemine, but Thursday's preliminary hearing was on the robbery charges alone.

Judge Bope had permitted newsmen to be present during the hearing while he heard testimony by a police officer, the county coroner and the service station manager.

Then he interrupted testimony by Linda Harris, 17, who was with the men when they were arrested, and ruled that the remainder of the hearing would be held in private.

Police Quell Seattle Mob With Tear Gas

SEATTLE (AP) — Police said they used tear gas Thursday night to break up a group of disorderly persons in the city's predominantly Negro central area.

Officers said the tear gas was used when a group of 50 to 75 youths gathered across the street from Garfield High School. Patrolmen moved in after the gas grenade was fired and the crowd dispersed.

A short time earlier a panel truck was set on fire. August Budnick, 57, told police 20 persons — mostly teen-agers approached his vehicle and tossed firebombs.

Budnick said he was threatened with robbery by two men driving nearby, but was able to escape and make his way to a fire station. He was not injured.

Clark Claims Civil Rights Foes Behind Fortas Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says political partisanship and, in some cases, opposition to civil rights advances are the motives behind many of those who oppose the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

Clark, in an interview, also said the slaying of 10 persons Tuesday in a Cleveland Negro neighborhood was "the random act of a handful of very extreme and violent-prone militants," and not part of a nationwide conspiracy to cause racial unrest.

In discussing President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to move up on the Supreme Court from associate justice to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren, Clark said that "quite clearly there is dominant in the opposition a highly partisan strain that's unfortunate. I don't believe a political affiliation should enter into the qualification for nomination."

He added that "those who oppose securing equal rights and civil rights are opposing the nomination. I would suggest the basis for opposition, in truth, is their opposition to the very great advances that have been made in civil rights under law."

Clark also defended the Justice Department's stand in winning a controversial memorandum to the Senate Judiciary Committee praising Fortas. The department was criticized by opponents of the nomination of trying to propagandize the committee by the memo.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he requested the memo.

Clark said the department always has supported administrative nominees for judicial appointments. He cited Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's testimony in support of the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. John D. Coleman to the federal bench.

black nationalists made the mayor capitulate could be severe," another city hall leader said.

White policemen chorused their frustration at being barred from the East Side Wednesday night in support of the nomination.

Another blow was the admission by city officials Thursday that a black nationalist being held in connection with the gun battle received 10,000 from "Cleveland Now," an ambitious Stokes project for rebuilding the community.

Fred "Ahmed" Evans, 37, a black nationalist and astrologer, was quoted by police as saying he led 17 men in the ambush which killed three police.

Evans' organization, the African Cultural Shop, received $10,000 in Cleveland Now funds channeled through the Hough Area Development Corp. Hough has received $1.6 million in federal funds, but a spokesman said no federal money was involved in the grant to Evans.

Evans is being held on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and possession of an automatic rifle.

Legion Post Broken into, Nothing Taken

Would-be burglars at the American Legion Post on Route 23 were apparently scared off early Friday morning by the sheriff and his deputies.

The sheriff's office reported receiving a telephone call from the police department about 2:10 a.m. describing a person loitering in front of the building.

When Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, who was called out of bed to answer the report, and his men arrived at the scene three minutes later, they found the front and side doors open but nothing missing.

The sheriff stated that he believes the thieves were probably scared off by the approaching cruiser.

Two Cases Dismissed In Municipal Court

Two cases were dismissed in Circleville Municipal Court Thursday when the defendants pleaded not guilty.

Willard Faulk, 40, Route 4, stole a paperback book from Palm's Carry Out valued at 95 cents. He pleaded not guilty and the affidavit was withdrawn by Otto Guenther.

Metric System Urged in Britain

LONDON (AP) — A special official commission recommended today that Britain adopt the metric system of weights and measures by 1975 to conform with the rest of Europe.

The commission, made up of 16 specialists from government and business, said the change-over should start in 1971, when the country switches to decimal currency.

Britain now weighs in ounces, pounds and tons and measures in inches, feet, yards and miles. It also has a few special weights, such as the stone, 14 pounds, and the hundredweight, 112 pounds.

The report pointed out that adoption of the metric system would remove one hindrance to Britain's trade with the European Common Market and the European Free Trade Association.

Smith in Visit To South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith arrived today for a weekend meeting with South African Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster.

Officially Smith came to see a rugby match between British and South African teams. But he was expected to seek Vorster's reaction to the ruling Rhodesian Front's plans for a new republican constitution that would probably end any chances of a settlement with Britain.

the nearby downtown section and smashed store windows, overturned park benches and hurled objects at passing vehicles, injuring 10 persons, none seriously.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was quickly imposed. Reinforcements from surrounding communities, some wielding submachine guns, moved in.

Maywood Police Chief Berner Kellough said those arrested, all Negroes, would be prosecuted for mob action and violation of curfew.

The disturbance on Chicago's North Side started after a large group of young Negroes listened to talk described as inflammatory, according to Sid Bennett, 35, a Negro who lives in the area.

"About 8 to 10 men, some dressed in African-style garb were inciting the crowd," said Bennett. "They were outside agitators."

Bennett, a karate expert, rescued Mel Larson, 54, a Sun-Times photographer who was beaten around the face and suffered chest injuries, including possible broken ribs by a Negro gang. He was reported in fair condition.

Some 100 youths invaded the supermarket, a colonial-styled structure that was involved in disturbances after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

with the Ohio Department of Urban Affairs.

THOSE inevitable real estate taxes are due Thursday, August 1. County Treasurer Robert Wood says that property holders who have not yet paid their taxes should do so promptly to avoid a traffic jam at the courthouse next Thursday or a penalty for late payment.

THE weatherman has done his bit to insure comfort for Roundtowners by forecasting cooler days and nights this week-end ... there is no sunshine bonus ... but the area can use the predicted rain. High temperatures are to remain in the low to mid 80s while the low readings at night will be in the sleep-inducing 60s.

FRED ALLEN liked to tell about the movie star who became convinced he was a banana. His psychiatrist found that he had a split personality. He was the first banana to split screen hero on record... Fred's menagerie of weird acquaintances also included a harmless fellow who had lived in a cannon for thirty years. He was always hoping to be a big shot, but he never quite made it.

Max Asnas, owner of Broadway's Stage Door Delicatessen, is a kindly man and many is the moocher he has taken to a free meal. One night a particularly bedraggled derelict appeared upon the scene and was promised a hand-out as soon as a big crowd of paying customers had been served. This took longer than the derelict thought it should, so he angrily accosted Mr. Asnas and cried, "Hey, I've been waiting for that meal you promised me now for a full twenty minutes. How much longer will I be ignored?" Mr. Asnas answered, "What's the matter, you bum? Are you double parked?"

Mr. E.B.T., Florida
Dear Mr. T.: Let me try to clarify this condition for you and for my other readers in the hope that it will relieve the anxiety that is so frequently associated with the unknown.

A diverticulum is a small pouch or sac found in the outer wall of the large intestine. This may occur singularly or there may be many and almost always they are present at birth. In most instances, people go through all of their lives without any intestinal symptoms that are related to this condition. When there are many sacs the disorder is called diverticulosis.

All of these sacs open into the intestines and are thought to be due to a slight weakness in the muscular wall of the large bowel. Pain, tenderness of the abdominal wall, spasm, and accumulation of gas are some of the symptoms noted by patients who have chronic irritation and inflammation of the lining of the diverticuli. It is surprising how often, a sane, sensible diet can control these unpleasant complaints and keep the condition from progressing. The Business World

By JACK LEFLER (For John Cumiff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Some leading bankers have expressed approval of recommendations by a Federal Reserve study group for reform of the Federal Reserve's discount system. Others have expressed reservations and a number have declined to comment at this time.

The recommendations came in a report issued Monday by a committee of four board members and four district Reserve bank presidents headed by board member George W. Mitchell.

Mitchell said the committee would seek reaction and comments from the financial community over the next two or three months before any action would be taken on the recommendations.

A key feature of the report, which culminated three years of study, is a recommendation that the Federal Reserve open its discount window for much wider borrowing by commercial banks.

Discount window is a term used in the borrowing from Federal Reserve banks by member banks. Interest charged for these loans is called the discount rate.

Wesley Lindow, executive vice president of the Irving Trust Co. of New York and chairman of the banking and financial research committee of the American Bankers Association, called the report "very constructive."

"The discount window has been very inactive lately and it's time to revive it," he said.

For years many banks have been bypassing the discount window and going to other sources for funds, such as buying excess reserves from other banks or selling due bills.

A bank official said over the last six or seven years 95 per cent of Federal Reserve credit has been supplied by open market operations—the purchase and sale of U.S. government securities—and only one per cent through the discount window.

Under the committee proposals, member banks would be granted automatic rights to borrow within an individual quota scaled to its total capital and surplus. Under present regulations such loans are considered a privilege—not a right—of membership and repeated loans over a long period are considered inappropriate.

Another feature of the committee proposals is that the discount rate could be changed as often as weekly to keep it closer in line with other money market rates. The discount rate has been changed twice this year—first in March from 4.5 per cent to 5 per cent and again in April to 5.5 per cent.

Off-Campus Credit Given

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The idea is spreading that the way to go to college is not to go to college. This is a facetious way of putting it, but when Yale students ask to be permitted to go and live in a ghetto instead of on-campus (the better to study "social conditions" close up), and when old-line colleges begin to imitate the "extended work period" (or mid-winter take-off for job projects) of such experimental colleges as Antioch, Goddard, and Bennington, isn't this paying a belated Twentieth Century tribute to the old Nineteenth Century theory that there is nothing so educative as the school of hard knocks?

Little Monmouth College of Monmouth, Illinois, gives credit to students for living and studying in Washington, D.C., for an eleven-week period. And at the University of Rochester they are experimenting with the "Jan Plan." This was initiated last winter by nineteen undergraduates who wanted a "relevant creative experience outside of the usual format of college courses but within the University structure." What this amounted to was nothing very remarkable (four students went to Washington, D. C., to work seven hours a day through January studying the work of Congressional staffs), but when a group of boys can come home from a month in Washington to say that they have had "the single most rewarding and enlightening experience we have encountered at the University" it could mean that dropping out of college into congenial work is not the worst thing that can happen to a boy or girl. Provided, of course, that there is a return to study later on.

At Mackinac College, up where the lake iron ore carriers from Lake Superior pass through the Straits of Mackinac, there is an "extended residence" program. "Extended residence" actually means non-residence, for if you want to spend time in Europe, Africa or Asia instead of at Mackinac, you can work it out with the producers of those remarkable Up With the People or Sing Out America, musical shows that Moral Rearmament keeps sending around the world. Mackinac College kids who have histrionic or musical ability, or who have a yearning to be advance agents or stage hands, travel abroad with a show for a full semester, taking three full-credit courses by listening to taped lectures sent out from the home campus. Eventually they make up their two remaining credit courses at Mackinac summer school.

NEW YORK (AP) — It's nice to get away from it all—from vacations, that is—and get back home where you can rest.

Taking it easy is hard to take. There's nothing like a planned program of rest and relaxation to tire you out.

Getting there may be half the fun, but for me it's twice the work. Just logging the luggage out is a major task, since it's always stored on a high shelf, wedged in among neighbors it resists parting from. But coaxing it down, while no job for an amateur, is just the beginning.

The suitcases have to be emptied before they can be filled. They're invariably loaded with out-of-date clothing, childhood attempts at embroidery, one eyed teddy bears and old love letters, which have to be relocated while their home is away from home.

Then there's the packing. No matter how many lists and charts I make, so that we'll only have to take out one bag on overnight stops, it never works out that way. The toothbrushes or some other essentials always manage to do a little traveling on their own and end up in the case at the bottom of the pile.

We once made an extended trip through Canada, stopping at a different motel every night. There were six people along on the jaunt, as well as a dozen assorted overnight cases, hat boxes, soft-sided luggage, hard-sided luggage and shoe tote bags, plus numerous containers of souvenirs acquired along the way.

To get all this into the car trunk, everything had to be fitted in a precise way like the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. Each morning my husband had to mastermind this half-hour exercise, as he was the only one who could remember just where it all had to be placed so the lid would go down.

Our most recent attempt at taking our ease wasn't much more successful. Feeling that a restful weekend away from the cares of work and home was in order, we accepted a standing invitation to visit relatives in a nearby city. Two glorious days with nothing to do!

When we arrived, my sister's greeting was followed by an enthusiastic recital of all the things she had planned for our enjoyment. And the crowning touch—she was giving a dinner for 20 guests Saturday night.

It was hard to squeeze the whole schedule in, but by getting a running start Saturday and going at a great pace we managed to do most of it, including shopping for groceries and preparing the big meal.

We really didn't have to leave as early as we did Sunday morning, but we figured it was better to be sleepy than run the risk of getting any more tired.

In answer to the letter to the editor from Mr. Bowsher, may I ask who sets the example for the so-called juvenile delinquents? Fathers, grandfathers, and mothers.

And what can you expect of kids when they see their fathers and grandfathers and mothers acting like grown up juvenile delinquents. Mother gets a baby sitter so she can go somewhere and dad and granddad are too busy doing what they like to do too, to take time to do anything with the kids. It's about time some parents start spending more time with their kids and doing things with them instead of just going and doing what they want to do.

And that especially goes for some fathers that I know.

Dear Editor:

While collecting thoughts for this talk, we are reminded of the changes that have taken place in this great nation. Changes bring challenges, and we are faced with great challenges.

We must be willing to speak up, to voice our concern about the future, and say what we think must be done.

We are at a point where it is going to take every American to bring the answer. A Commission cannot do it. As free men and women we must face this responsibility.

America has experienced two major crises in her history: the Civil War and the depression. Now we are faced with a third, a depression of the national spirit.

We must remember that we are the only nation founded by the ordinary people. Our future will be determined by the ordinary people.

The few followers of Stokely Carmichael, Ralph Abernathy, and Dr. Spock will crumble and fall. We are guilty of promoting them into a force, to spread dissent over our great nation.

There are still our youth who love life, love family, love this great nation. The Americans who suffer and fight in Vietnam deserve all our respect and loyalty.

As Independent Americans we must stand up for America. We must be governed by the Constitution of the United States. The Constitution of the United States was prepared and adopted by men acting under inspiration from Almighty God.

We are at war with communism which is committed to the destruction of our government, our right of property, and our very freedom.

Each state should have the right to govern their own state. Each of us has a natural right — from God to defend his person, his liberty, and his property.

In 1968 the American people must decide if we are going to return to Constitutional government.

We must elect a man that values principles above popularity, and works for these principles.

We must keep in mind the words of Thomas Jefferson, as found in the Declaration of Independence:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

HONOLULU (AP) — Show Biz notes from the 50th state—

Marlon Brando appears ready to go back to work. After the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the actor passed up the starring role in Elia Kazan's "The Arrangement" to devote his time to civil rights. Stopping over in Honolulu en route from Tahiti Island to Paris, Brando said he expects to begin work soon on "The Rebellion," to be filmed in Europe.

"The director is Gillo Pontecorvo, who made 'Battle of Algiers,'" said the actor. "He's one of those new directors who doesn't give a damn about stars or anything but his film. He's energetic and full of ideas; I haven't worked with a director like that in years, and I'm looking forward to it!"

The late Kui Lee, already an island legend although he died only two years ago, will get the filmgoing treatment under a deal set by Honolulu Advertiser columnist Eddie Sherman. He secured rights to Lee's life story from the songwriter's estate, and producer Leonard Freeman has taken an option on the biography.

Kui Lee was the brilliant, rebellious island boy who wrote "One Paddle, Two Paddle" and "I'll Remember You," "Ain't No Big Thing," and other songs which helped propel Don Ho to national fame. Lee died of cancer in his thirties.

A location scout from the Mirisch Brothers company visited here recently to hunt scenery for a sequel to "Hawaii." The producers are apparently going ahead with plans to continue the James Michener saga with the Chinese and Japanese portions of the novel, which many readers consider the best part.

Many persons consider "Hawaii" a flop because it drew almost uniformly bad reviews. But it appears to have been one of those movies that nobody liked but the public. "Hawaii" was a big money-maker for the Mirisches and United Artists. So there is little wonder that a sequel is planned.

Hawaii is becoming increasingly popular as a background for television commercials. The

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

For years I have been complaining of vague intestinal pains and disturbances. Only recently have I been told that I have diverticulitis. I do not quite understand exactly what it is, and am somewhat concerned that it may lead to some serious condition. Is surgery ever necessary? How can complications be avoided?

Mr. E.B.T., Florida
Dear Mr. T.: Let me try to clarify this condition for you and for my other readers in the hope that it will relieve the anxiety that is so frequently associated with the unknown.

A diverticulum is a small pouch or sac found in the outer wall of the large intestine. This may occur singularly or there may be many and almost always they are present at birth. In most instances, people go through all of their lives without any intestinal symptoms that are related to this condition. When there are many sacs the disorder is called diverticulosis.

All of these sacs open into the intestines and are thought to be due to a slight weakness in the muscular wall of the large bowel. When food or bacteria causes an inflammation of the lining of these small sacs the condition is called diverticulitis, which is responsible for the distressing symptoms associated with it.

Pain, tenderness of the abdominal wall, spasm, and accumulation of gas are some of the symptoms noted by patients who have chronic irritation and inflammation of the lining of the diverticula. It is surprising how often, a sane, sensible diet can control these unpleasant complaints and keep the condition from progressing. Many diets have been tried, all with a great deal of success, when used in combination with the medicines that are now available.

Recently it was suggested that patients with this disorder would benefit from a high residue diet. This is a rather new idea because previously it was felt that a low residue diet would be most effective. The purpose of this new approach is to keep the intestine filled, especially when pain and spasm are present. A high residue diet is one that contains bulky food with a high cellulose content. The opposite, of course, is contained in the low residue diet. It must be emphasized that no shift to a high residue diet should be made without the specific instruction of the physician, who carefully evaluates this new idea in each individual case. There are now a number of excellent simple, highly refined and non-irritating products made of psyllium seeds which add bulk and promote natural elimination.

Antibiotics and antispasmodics can now keep the patient comfortable and help prevent some of the complications that arise from neglect of chronic diverticulitis. Treatment, of course, is instituted only after the exact diagnosis is made by X-ray study of the intestines. It is surprising how often diverticula are found during routine X-ray examinations in people who have had the condition without any complaints. Surgery becomes necessary only when one or more of the sacs becomes enlarged and threatens to rupture, or when abscesses develop. Surgery can almost always be avoided if the early symptoms are not overlooked and if the condition is treated vigorously with diet and drugs.

Self-chosen over-the-counter medicines frequently delay proper treatment.

Sixty per cent of the lawns and gardens in these beautifully blooming United States are maintained by our women, a survey conducted by a garden equipment firm shows. Maybe it's because Pop is too busy earning the long green to support his favorite green thumb!

Then again, maybe it's because most male householders in this year of politics have become too involved in the grass-roots movements.

State of Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Show Biz notes from the 50th state—Marlon Brando appears ready to go back to work. After the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the actor passed up the starring role in Elia Kazan's "The Arrangement" to devote his time to civil rights.

Stopping over in Honolulu en route from Tahiti Island to Paris, Brando said he expects to begin work soon on "The Rebellion," to be filmed in Europe.

"The director is Gillo Pontecorvo, who made 'Battle of Algiers,'" said the actor. "He's one of those new directors who doesn't give a damn about stars or anything but his film. He's energetic and full of ideas; I haven't worked with a director like that in years, and I'm looking forward to it."

The late Kui Lee, already an island legend although he died only two years ago, will get the filmbiog treatment under a deal set by Honolulu Advertiser columnist Eddie Sherman. He secured rights to Lee's life story from the songwriter's estate, and producer Leonard Freeman has taken an option on the biography.

Kui Lee was the brilliant, rebellious island boy who wrote "One Paddle, Two Paddle" and "I'll Remember You." "Ain't No Big Thing," and other songs which helped propel Don Ho to national fame. Lee died of cancer in his twenties.

A location scout from the Mirisch Brothers company visited here recently to hunt scenery for a sequel to "Hawaii." The producers are apparently going ahead with plans to continue the James Michener saga with the Chinese and Japanese portions of the novel, which many readers consider the best part.

Many persons consider "Hawaii" a flop because it drew almost uniformly bad reviews. But it appears to have been one of those movies that nobody liked but the public. "Hawaii" was a big money-maker for the Mirisches and United Artists. So there is little wonder that a sequel is planned.

Hawaii is becoming increasingly popular as a background for television commercials. The reason is not merely to capture the islands' scenic beauty in color; the film makers can also escape some of the stringent terms for actors by not shooting on the mainland.

Maggie Parker, lone female lead of the new "Hawaii Five-O" series, comes from an unlikely background for an actress. Born to a proper Bostonian family, she took a master's degree in education at Boston University. Four years ago she turned down the position of dean of women at a new California college to pursue an acting career in Hawaii.

Despite the odds, she has managed to earn a good living in radio, television, commercials and films. Now she is destined for stardom if the "Five-O" series succeeds.

Recent entertainment figures in the islands: Helen Hayes, visiting son James MacArthur, costar of "Hawaii Five-O"; Nancy Sinatra, filming for a new television special and not visiting her ex, Tommy Sands; Betty Grable, here for a stand in "Guys and Dolls."

James Arness dropped his Garbo habits and gabbed with the press when his catamaran finished first in the trans-Pacific race. His fellow television star, Buddy Ebsen, came in two days later but won the race because of the way the cats were handicapped.

Pigeons Deliver Canadian Mail

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — Pigeon postmen went to work in Calgary as the first week of Canada's postal strike ended Wednesday. A homing pigeon delivered a copy of a document from Calgary, 160 miles west of Alberta's capital, to mark the opening of a new grain elevator. John Schmidt, agriculture editor of the Calgary Herald, used another pigeon to deliver copy to his office. Art Poile, owner of the birds, said he would provide pigeons to deliver notes in the province during the strike by 24,000 postal workers. He said his birds can cover 160 miles in about three hours, one hour faster than buses.

Hands Off the Dishes Use Your Dish Washer

By ELEANOR ROSS

It may be regarded as "old hat" to discuss the merits of owning a dishwasher — NOT dispan and sink. But the automatic variety. Yet the number of people owning dishwashers is surprisingly low. This is so despite the fact that a dishwasher is considered one of the most effective means of saving time for the homemaker and allowing her more leisure — to say nothing about Mother's helper.

Perhaps the low ownership is the result of certain misconceptions which exist and persist because we hear them so often.

Water Question

One is that a dishwasher uses so much water. Actually it uses less water per day than is probably required to wash the dishes by hand. The machine fills with about 2 gallons of water for each wash and rinse cycle — recirculating this water over the dishes with a vigorous scrubbing action about 5 times in a full cycle. The used water is then drained, fresh water is pumped in and recirculated — for a total of about 11-15 gallons per load.

Then there is the argument that dishes require too much advance scraping and rinsing before going into the dishwasher. Automatic pre-rinsing eliminates the need for hand-rinsing before machine washing. And manufacturers recommend only removing bones and other leftovers before machine-washing.

Another objection heard is that a dishwasher won't clean pots, pans, and casseroles. Powerful scrubbing action combined with very hot water and the special detergents formulated just for automatic dishwashers will generally clean utensils. Any "almost clean" piece can be polished off in seconds compared to the time and energy required to clean it completely by hand.

Dishwasher detergents are compatible with septic tanks and leech beds, so they can be safely drained into a tank — so that does away with another contention. The machine actually puts less water and detergent into the tank since most homemakers use an automatic dishwasher only once a day, versus three times when washing dishes by hand.

Will Be Around

A dishwasher is a long term investment and so should receive maximum use. New dishes and equipment should be selected with the dishwasher in mind. It is best to avoid buying glasses and cups that have concave bottoms where water can collect when they are loaded in the machine upside down.

One of the best reasons for having a dishwasher is that it certainly dries dishes and utensils in a much more sanitary manner than even the freshest dish towel.

Esherick Keeps ACLU From Appeal

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — At the wish of Fred M. Esherick Jr. the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) will not be asked to join in Esherick's appeals for a new murder trial. The 16-year-old Esherick has been sentenced to die for the bayonet slaying of his father.

John S. Nelson, one of Esherick's two court-appointed attorneys, says he has received a letter from the youth, who is in death row at Ohio Penitentiary, saying he does not intend to sign papers asking the ACLU to assist in the appeals.

The ACLU has raised the issue of a possible conflict of interest involving Nelson, who was considered the Esherick family's lawyer. Nelson probated the will of the senior Esherick after he was killed by his adopted son. In this instance, the attorney represented Mrs. Esherick, who was the state's star witness against her son.

Fred Jr. also was convicted of trying to kill his mother.

Nelson was cleared of any conflict of interest by Juvenile Court Judge John M. Parks during hearings before Esherick was bound to the grand jury to be tried as an adult.

In his letter, Esherick said he wished to retain Nelson and his other defense lawyer, Henry D. Rand Jr., to proceed with his new trial appeal in the 7th District Court of Appeals.

Land Exchange By Mead, State May Be OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee approved Thursday a bill to allow the state of Ohio to exchange 5,650 acres of land in Raccoon State Forest for 5,920 acres owned by Mead Paper Co. of Chillicothe.

It is not expected, however, that the bill will come up for House action before Congress recesses for the national political conventions.

The federal government acquired the forest land, in Vinton County, in 1938 through 1940 and later transferred it to the state on condition that the land be used for public purposes or revert to the federal government.

The land offered by Mead is in Vinton and Athens counties, adjoining and to the east of the Zaleski State Forest.

Union in Logan Walks Off Job

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Members of Local 744, United Rubber Workers, walked off their jobs at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. here Thursday in what was termed an unauthorized strike.

About 1,000 workers were idled by the strike. Union and company officials would not discuss the walkout, which apparently was caused by a pay dispute.

Esherick wrote Nelson. Nelson asked Lake County Common Pleas Court Thursday to approve Rand and himself as appeals attorneys.

Hands Off the Dishes Use Your Dish Washer

By ELEANOR ROSS

It may be regarded as "old hat" to discuss the merits of owning a dishwasher — NOT dispan and sink. But the automatic variety. Yet the number of people owning dishwashers is surprisingly low. This is so despite the fact that a dishwasher is considered one of the most effective means of saving time for the homemaker and allowing her more leisure — to say nothing about Mother's helper.

Perhaps the low ownership is the result of certain misconceptions which exist and persist because we hear them so often.

Water Question
One is that a dishwasher uses so much water. Actually it uses less water per day than is probably required to wash the dishes by hand. The machine fills with about 2 gallons of water for each wash and rinse cycle — recirculating this water over the dishes with a vigorous scrubbing action about 5 times in a full cycle. The used water is then drained, fresh water is pumped in and recirculated — for a total of about 11-15 gallons per load.

Then there is the argument that dishes require too much advance scraping and rinsing before going into the dishwasher. Automatic pre-rinsing eliminates the need for hand-rinsing before machine-washing. And manufacturers recommend only removing bones and other leftovers before machine-washing.

Another objection heard is that a dishwasher won't clean pots, pans, and casseroles. Powerful scrubbing action combined with very hot water and the special detergents formulated just for automatic dishwashers will generally clean utensils. Any "almost clean" piece can be polished off in seconds compared to the time and energy required to clean it completely by hand.

Dishwasher detergents are compatible with septic tanks and leech beds, so they can be safely drained into a tank — so that does away with another contention. The machine actually puts less water and detergent into the tank since most homemakers use an automatic dishwasher only once a day, versus three times when washing dishes by hand.

Will Be Around

A dishwasher is a long term investment and so should receive maximum use. New dishes and equipment should be selected with the dishwasher in mind. It is best to avoid buying glasses and cups that have concave bottoms where water can collect when they are loaded in the machine upside down.

One of the best reasons for having a dishwasher is that it certainly dries dishes and utensils in a much more sanitary manner than even the freshest dish towel.

Pickaway County 4-H Band First Organized in 1963

The Pickaway County 4-H Band, which was organized in 1963 came into being because Drexel Poling, then a member of the All Ohio Boys' Band, heard and saw other county 4-H Bands performing at the State Fair.

With the approval of the County Extension office he enlisted David Schein and Linda Minor in the project and they proceeded to recruit others who were 4-H members and played musical instruments.

A group of 35 got together and rehearsed that first year, performing well enough to appear at the Pumpkin Show.

The membership nearly doubled the next year and the following year saw a membership of 100.

DURING these years band was a project, but since that time it had become an activity and band members must now carry another project to qualify for membership.

Now in its sixth year the band has continuously been under the direction of Drexel Poling with David Schein as assistant conductor. Most years the band has included in its membership students from each of the county junior and senior high schools.

In addition to playing concerts at the Pickaway County Fair, the band plays at the State Fair, the Pumpkin Show, the Ashville 4th of July Celebration and the Derby Homecoming as well as several 4-H events and other special events.

Concerts which have been scheduled for this year's fair include Sunday at 5 p.m. in the area between the Coliseum and the 4-H Grange Building, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at the Grandstand at 3:30 just prior to the Harness races, and Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Coliseum area.

An additional concert may be scheduled for Friday afternoon.

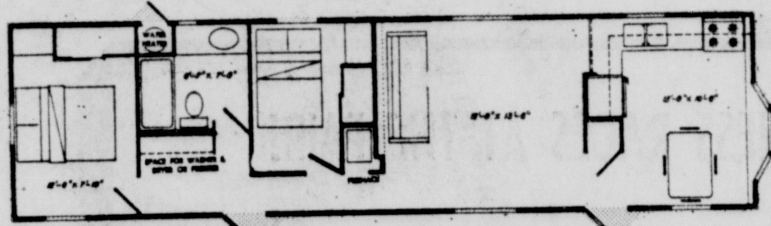

FIVE YEARS OLD — The Pickaway County 4-H Band will celebrate its fifth anniversary with performances at the Pickaway County Fair. The brain-child of Drexel Poling, a Logan Elm graduate, the musical group has been under his direction since its inception. David Schein is assistant conductor.

musical instruments.

A group of 35 got together and rehearsed that first year, performing well enough to appear at the Pumpkin Show.

The membership nearly doubled the next year and the following year saw a membership of 100.

DURING these years band was a project, but since that time it had become an activity and band members must now carry another project to qualify for membership.

Now in its sixth year the band has continuously been under the direction of Drexel Poling with David Schein as assistant conductor. Most years the band has included in its membership students from each of the county junior and senior high schools.

In addition to playing concerts at the Pickaway County Fair, the band plays at the State Fair, the Pumpkin Show, the Ashville 4th of July Celebration and the Derby Homecoming as well as several 4-H events and other special events.

Concerts which have been scheduled for this year's fair include Sunday at 5 p.m. in the area between the Coliseum and the 4-H Grange Building, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at the Grandstand at 3:30 just prior to the Harness races, and Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Coliseum area.

An additional concert may be scheduled for Friday afternoon.

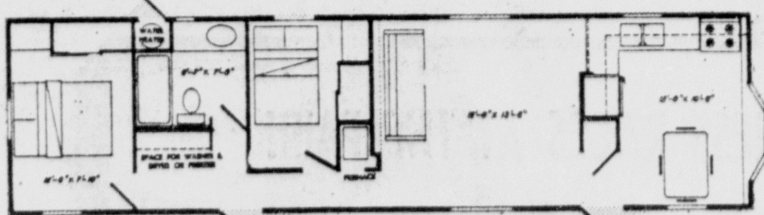

FIVE YEARS OLD — The Pickaway County 4-H Band will celebrate its fifth anniversary with performances at the Pickaway County Fair. The brain-child of Drexel Poling, a Logan Elm graduate, the musical group has been under his direction since its inception. David Schein is assistant conductor.

Saxbe in Stand On Urban Violence

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said Wednesday that America cannot tolerate apologists for violence who contend they should be "excused from their current wrong doings on the basis of previous mistreatment."

The Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, speaking at a Washington County courthouse rally, said one standard of law enforcement must apply to all citizens, even those who have been socially wronged in the past.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

To Tell or Not to Tell: That's Question

DEAR ABBY: If you knew positively that your sister's husband had been keeping another woman for 7 or 8 years, would you take on the sad task of telling your sister?

Many other people know it, and she is bound to find out someday, and then she will know that we knew it too.

HER SISTERS
DEAR SISTERS: There are two schools of thought. To tell and not to tell.

I belong to the "not to tell" school. There are exceptions, of course. In most cases the wife usually knows, but she is putting on a brave face for reasons known only to her.

Allow her her pride and keep quiet. And should she in time admit that she knows, be "big" and don't chime in with those who would say, "I knew it all along."

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and I am waiting for a guy who is overseas in the service. (Let's call him Morey.) I don't have an engagement ring or anything like that, but I promised Morey I would wait for him, so that's what I am doing.

Well, there is a guy Morey used to run around with (let's call him Herman), and Herman comes over and takes me out just to keep me from going nuts. Anyway it started out that way. Now, Herman tells me he thinks he is in love with me, altho I told Herman from the start that I was waiting for Morey and I think of him only as a friend.

Don't get me wrong, Herman hasn't tried anything, but he is starting to like me too much for his own good. I don't want to quit seeing Herman because he's really a nice guy and a girl could go nuts sitting home all the time writing letters.

My mother says I shouldn't be going out at all, but I can't see any harm in it as long as I don't lead anybody on. What do you think? I don't want to hurt Herman.

WAITING FOR MOREY
DEAR WAITING: Maybe you think of Herman as "only a friend," but he obviously has other ideas about you. I don't know how you figure you are "waiting" for Morey, when you are going with Herman. If a girl "waits" for a fellow, she waits alone without "going nuts." Don't worry about hurting Herman. I have an idea he can take care of himself.

DEAR ABBY: You said, "There is one type of man I have never known to be strong, reliable and trustworthy and he is the man who would ask for a loan of money from the woman he loves."

Are there NO exceptions?

BEEN THERE
DEAR BEEN: Yes. A husband and wife many years married, and united by common interests, may become so one in purpose and thought that a common purse would be as natural to them as a common bed or dinner table. But before marriage, or immediately after, the man who begins to ask a woman for the use of her purse shows himself to be lacking more than money.

Pickaway County's Future Homemakers Display Achievements in Food, Clothing

Jr. Fair Swine Division Has Many Entries

The swine division of the Junior Fair Livestock Show is one of the largest of any county fair in the state and annually provides some of the toughest competition for young exhibitors.

Judging of the many entries will begin 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the show arena. Herb Barnes has been assigned the difficult task of judging the young farmers' projects.

Junior fair superintendents of the show are Tim Wells and Andy Hamman.

Judging in the ring will be done according to weight in the market classes and breed in the breeding classes. The following breeds will be recognized and exhibited in this order in the gilt classes: Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China, Yorkshire.

Lightweight market hogs are 189 pounds and under. The middle weight class is 190 to 220 pounds and the heavyweight class is 221 pounds and over.

The pen of three competition is divided into lightweight and heavyweight divisions.

Senior spring gilts in the breeding show must have been farrowed between Aug. 1, 1967 and Jan. 31, 1968. Junior Spring gilts must have been farrowed after Feb. 1, 1968.

There will be two divisions in the showmanship division. The junior swine showmanship will be limited to members 14 years of age or less who have not previously won a showmanship contest.

The senior division is for members over 14 years of age. Previous winners are ineligible.

Special swine awards are:
1. Grand champion market hog, a trophy; reserve champion market hog, a cup; third place will receive $2 cash prize. Circleville Lumber Co. is the donor of the awards.

Livestock Sale High Point of Junior Fair

The climax of the Pickaway County Fair for the many 4-H Club members with market livestock projects comes with the annual sales conducted by the Bowling Stock Yard.

In 1967, all price records were shattered in the steer, swine and sheep auctions.

Circleville Big Bear Store paid $1.25 a pound for the grand champion steer fed and shown by Rick Pontious of Walnut Twp.

Tink's Tavern purchased the grand champion market hog from its owner, Donna Garrison, at $1.21 a pound and Ward's Market bought the grand champion lamb at $1.50.

The auction totaled $62,543.43 for young farm animal exhibitors.

The steer sale will be held beginning 8 p.m. Thursday and the sheep and hog event beginning 8 p.m. Friday.

Both will be in the show arena at the Fairgrounds.

The kingdom of Tonga lies north of New Zealand near Fiji and Samoa. It includes about 150 islands and islets in three main groups: volcanic Vava'u, coral Ha'apai and Tongatapu. There are some 60,000 people.

U.S. Gold Reserves Gain $213 Million During June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in March, U.S. officials struggled to come up with a plan to end a gold crisis and restore confidence in the dollar. They watched the nation's gold pile shrink smaller and smaller.

Now, in a complete reversal, the Treasury Department has reported one of the largest increases in the U.S. gold supply in over five years—up $213 million during June.

It was the first increase in U.S. gold since a $2 million gain last September and reversed the heavy losses which followed devaluation of the British pound last November.

The increase indicated renewed overseas confidence in the dollar, at least in relation to other currencies.

U.S. officials said the United States bought the gold from more than one foreign country but refused to say which ones.

The new figures, however, support the as yet unconfirmed reports that France sold as much as $100 million in gold to this country during June to obtain the currencies needed to weather an economic crisis.

It had been French policy until late 1966 to buy at least $34 million in U.S. gold monthly but she ran short of dollars after September of that year.

France bought more than $2.8 billion in U.S. gold under this policy from 1962 through 1966.

The June gain raised the total U.S. gold holdings by the end of the month to $10.6 billion and wiped out most of the losses of the previous two months.

In March, at the height of the gold crisis, the United States lost a record $1.2 billion in gold before sales to speculators in Europe were shut off by abolishing the London gold pool.

As members of the pool, the United States and six European countries fed enough gold from their official holdings to meet the demand on the private London gold market and hold the price at $35 an ounce.

A two-price system was established in March—one price of $35 an ounce for buying and selling among governments and the other governed by supply and demand on the free market.

The June gain in gold reduced the total drain for the first six months of this year to $1.384 billion, still larger than the $1.17 billion for all of 1967.

EDITOR'S Note—ABC's "Dream House" may not be everybody's cup of afternoon tea, but whether one likes it or tunes it out, one cannot but be impressed by the tight security procedures developed to make certain that it remains an honest show with legitimate winners. Don Reid, its creator, describes them.

By DON REID
HOLLYWOOD AP — "Dream House" is the first quiz show in more than a decade to offer really lavish prizes—ranging up to a $40,000 house and homesite—and I knew I had a tiger by the tail.

The specter of the rigging scandals of the mid-50's loomed ominously over the project. We had to devise a security plan which would baffle any kind of cheating or collusion, whether intentional or accidental, by the less than 1 per cent of this world that would cheat or be guilty of collusion.

Here, briefly, are the security measures which solved our problem.

On each show, three couples—one hold-over champion and two sets of challengers—compete for prizes, leading up to a new home. Instead of bringing three couples to the studio, however, we invite five or six. The challengers are chosen by the flip of a coin. The winners go on the air while the losers are invited to return and flip again.

That way, no potential challenger and no one on the production staff knows, until moments before air time just who will appear on any program. When they meet for the first time at the studio, the contestants are kept continuously under the eye of a network representative. They are not allowed to discuss the show amongst themselves, nor do they come into contact with any member of the staff involved with questions or prizes. That includes host Michael Darow.

Contestants are required to sign affidavits stating that they are not related by blood, marriage or personal friendship to anyone connected with the show, the network or the sponsors and advertising agencies involved, and that they understand it is a federal offense "to accept information or assistance" which would give them an advantage over other players.

Probe Toledo Jail Operation

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Complaints about "irregular management" of the Toledo House of Correction are to be investigated by City Manager William Gross.

Mayor William Ensign, who ordered the probe Thursday would not disclose the source of the complaints but said they involved work scheduling of guards and inventory of supplies.

Ensign said his main concern was that the workhouse would not be "run in a kangaroo court style." Workhouse Supt. Merle Blay had no comment.

Early School Display Set For Fair Week

The Pickaway County Historical Society, as part of its display at the County Fair, will present an early American schoolroom, with pupils attired in the homespun garments and pinafores of that era.

This display will give the elder citizens an opportunity to reminisce the years gone by.

For the younger generation, it offers the opportunity of comparison between the educational facilities of today and then.

The display will depict the youngsters of those days receiving the rudiments of the three R's, "reading, writing, and 'rithmetic," sitting before the "School Master" or "School Marm," with children of the area portraying this role.

OF particular interest to those visiting the schoolroom will be the actual sessions held each afternoon and evening during the Fair, in which the children will use the "hornbook" to learn by the method of repetition.

Children were required to hang this board around the neck and at every opportunity repeat the letters and numerals painted or carved on this board.

The Historical Society is pleased to present an exhibit which will refresh the memories of days gone by and as contrasted with the opportunities now available for educational attainment.

Nixon Eyes Possible Choices for Veep

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is quietly conducting final examinations of potential vice presidential running mates, a narrowing field said to include about seven men, even as his Republican rivals campaign to deny him the GOP nomination for the White House.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California both maintain that Nixon has not clinched the Republican nomination.

Nixon lieutenants claim he has. And sources close to the candidate said a vice presidential selection would be made within the next week, but that even the man chosen by Nixon probably won't know about it for a while.

The Nixon organization was said to have conducted public opinion polls in several major states to test reaction to various men being considered as potential vice presidential choices. One source said that figures produced by polls taken so far have not been conclusive in measuring the ticket-strengthening potential of possible Nixon running mates. The organization was said to be awaiting reports on other state surveys.

The names currently under consideration remain a closely guarded secret. Nixon associates have indicated the final selection is likely to be a moderate-to-liberal Republican with vote-pulling potential in the cities, but the organization's polls also were said to have sampled reaction to more conservative GOP figures.

Among the names thought to be under consideration are those of U.S. Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, John Tower of Texas; Govs. Reagan, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and George Romney of Michigan; former Gov. William W.

Scranton of Pennsylvania and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

One Nixon source said the field had been narrowed to seven names, but would not say what they were.

Rockefeller and Reagan both headed from the National Governors Conference here, which closed a four-day session Wednesday, to continue their meetings with GOP state delegations. No candidate gained any new public endorsements at the conference.

The Cincinnati conference got a harsh farewell from one retiring Democratic governor, Philip H. Hoff of Vermont. He issued a windup statement charging the sessions had "little relevance to the crucial issues confronting our society"—such as city problems, social and economic justice and poverty.

"We have heard speaker after speaker intone the rhetoric of reaction and retrenchment," Hoff said. "If the public pronouncements of my fellow governors are an accurate reflection of the mood of this nation, then I despair for the people of America." Hoff said the mood of the conference was one of negativism, that he cannot believe this is the real temper of the nation.

Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington, also a Democrat and the new chairman of the governors conference, disputed that assessment.

"We are living up to our responsibilities and I think that further progress will be made," he said.

"There were some views that might be called reactionary," said Gov. John A. Volpe, R-Mass. "But they did not predominate. Over-all, I think we've made substantial progress."

OF particular interest to those visiting the schoolroom will be the actual sessions held each afternoon and evening during the Fair, in which the children will use the "hornbook" to learn by the method of repetition.

Children were required to hang this board around the neck, and at every opportunity repeat the letters and numerals painted or carved on this board. The Historical Society is pleased to present an exhibit which will refresh the memories of days gone by and as contrasted with the opportunities now available for educational attainment.

Nixon Eyes Possible Choices for Veep

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is quietly conducting final examinations of potential vice presidential running mates, a narrowing field said to include about seven men, even as his Republican rivals campaign to deny him the GOP nomination for the White House.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California both maintain that Nixon has not clinched the Republican nomination.

Nixon lieutenants claim he has. And sources close to the candidate said a vice presidential selection would be made within the next week, but that even the man chosen by Nixon probably won't know about it for a while.

The Nixon organization was said to have conducted public opinion polls in several major states to test reaction to various men being considered as potential vice presidential choices. One source said that figures produced by polls taken so far have not been conclusive in measuring the ticket-strengthening potential of possible Nixon running mates. The organization was said to be awaiting reports on other state surveys.

The names currently under consideration remain a closely guarded secret. Nixon associates have indicated the final selection is likely to be a moderate-to-liberal Republican with vote-pulling potential in the cities, but the organization's polls also were said to have sampled reaction to more conservative GOP figures.

Among the names thought to be under consideration are those of U.S. Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, John Tower of Texas; Govs. Reagan, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and George Romney of Michigan; former Gov. William W.

Scranton of Pennsylvania and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

One Nixon source said the field had been narrowed to seven names, but would not say what they were.

Rockefeller and Reagan both headed from the National Governors Conference here, which closed a four-day session Wednesday, to continue their meetings with GOP state delegations. No candidate gained any new public endorsements at the conference.

The Cincinnati conference got a harsh farewell from one retiring Democratic governor, Philip H. Hoff of Vermont. He issued a windup statement charging the sessions had "little relevance to the crucial issues confronting our society"—such as city problems, social and economic justice and poverty.

"We have heard speaker after speaker intone the rhetoric of reaction and retrenchment," Hoff said. "If the public pronouncements of my fellow governors are an accurate reflection of the mood of this nation, then I despair for the people of America." Hoff said the mood of the conference was one of negativism, that he cannot believe this is the real temper of the nation.

Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington, also a Democrat and the new chairman of the governors conference, disputed that assessment.

"We are living up to our responsibilities and I think that further progress will be made," he said. "There were some views that might be called reactionary," said Gov. John A. Volpe, R-Mass. "But they did not predominate. Over-all, I think we've made substantial progress."

NEW YORK (AP) —A top American admiral has told ends the Soviet Union is moving quickly to fill the power vacuum left in the Indian Ocean after British withdrawal east of Suez, it was learned Thursday.

Adm. John S. McCain Jr. says the Soviets already have a three-ship force patrolling in the area and will probably move more units into the region.

The force has greater firepower and greater mobility than American units now operating in the Indian Ocean area.

McCain said in a telephone interview today that the Soviet buildup there is part of the Russians' worldwide emphasis on expanding their seapower.

"And I don't just mean naval units," he said, "but also oceanography, fishing and their merchant marine."

While the U.S. Navy has long maintained a three-ship force in the Mideast, it is heavily outnumbered by the Soviets who are operating a task force made up of a modern cruiser, a destroyer and an oiler.

The American force consists of a small seaplane tender used as flagship and two destroyers, generally World War II types. They depend on shore facilities for fuel and supplies.

The Soviets, on the other hand, are free to roam the area without need for shore support, refueling at sea from the oiler. They have already shown the flag in India, Iraq, Iran, Somalia and several smaller countries along the Red Sea.

McCain earlier this month relinquished command of all U.S. naval forces in Europe as well as the Mideast Force. He will take over July 31 as commander of all American forces in the Pacific.

He has told friends the Soviets have "Every intention of filling the gap" left by Britain's withdrawal from the Indian Ocean and predicts they will give it a higher priority than catching up with American seapower in the Mediterranean. The Russians already have an estimated 30 ships operating there, in waters that were once the almost exclusive preserve of the U.S. Sixth Fleet and other NATO warships.

To Train A Child

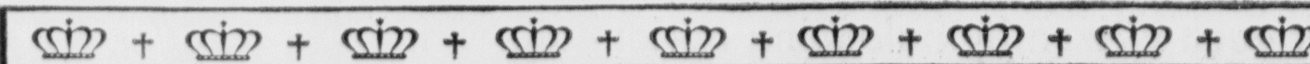

Mommy, I love you.
 I'm glad I'm alive.
 It's fun to run and play
 and laugh and dance.
 It's hard to stand still and listen.
 Mommy, I love you.
 Thank you for taking care of me. Thank you for cookies and milk and bread.
 Please give me a dime for
 Sunday School. I like Sunday School. We sing and laugh and learn about God.
 Mommy, I love you.

And so on and on she prattles in her own innocent and naive way. Soon, however, her questions will become more complex and her parents will need all the love and wisdom they can obtain.

Fortunately, we as parents are not alone in this endeavor. The Church stands ready and anxious to help us train our children. Through worship, study and meditation we can learn to know what God requires of us. Come to the church of your choice this Sunday and every Sunday.

The charges stem from the stabbing death of Noel Wright, 30, a white, who was dragged from his car, beaten and stabbed. His wife was beaten by a group of Negro girls.

The incident came in the midst of rioting here April 8 following a memorial ceremony in the Avondale section of Cincinnati for the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Frank M. Gusweiler recently overruled a motion filed by the defense to try each defendant separately. All three were originally charged with first-degree murder, but a grand jury reduced the charges.

2 Protestant Groups Move Closer Together in Britain

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Two of Britain's Protestant churches moved closer together when the Congregationalists and the Presbyterian Church of England voted, at their assemblies in May, for union by 1970.

The new United Church, as it will be called, is expected to have nearly 300,000 members with 1,500 ministers serving 2,000 churches throughout England and Wales.

However, in approving unanimously the general principle of union, the Congregationalists made a reservation that final decisions about the form of church government as it affects a single pattern of eldership and the diaconate should be left until later.

This will be borne in mind when delegates from the two churches draw up their formal outline for union, which is expected to be ready by next year. The outline plan will then be studied by individual member churches of the two denominations before final acceptance, which is expected in 1970 with ratification following a year later.

The grouping together of Congregationalists and Presbyterians in the new United Church will mark the first occasion on which union is achieved between historically separated churches in this country. But the Church of England and the Methodists are discussing union, too.

There are about 260,000 Congregationalists in England and Wales. Presbyterians number under 40,000, although there are many more in Scotland and Northern Ireland, who are not affected by the present merger.

The laity is expected to be given an important role in the United Church, presiding at Holy Communion when necessary. Men and women will be strictly equal, with women also eligible for the ministry. Local churches will have lay elders chosen by the church to share in preaching and pastoral work.

The Rev. Charles Haig, new president of the Congregational Church in England and Wales, said at its assembly that denominationalism was dying.

"Let us not seek to prolong its struggles," he said. "The inherited idea of a denomination is irrelevant to the life and work of the church today. The decline in numbers which began 50 years ago will go on until a united church is able to offer a new center for the life of the nation."

Cincy Slaying Trial Starts

CINCINNATI (AP)—The trial of three Cincinnatians, accused in the fatal stabbing of a University of Cincinnati graduate student during rioting in April, begins today in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.

A jury of seven whites and five Negroes was seated Thursday for the trial of Terry Ware, 18; Eugene Calloway, 20; and Terice Lewis, 22, all Negroes, charged with second - degree murder.

The charges stem from the stabbing death of Noel Wright, 30, a white, who was dragged from his car, beaten and stabbed. His wife was beaten by a group of Negro girls.

The incident came in the midst of rioting here April 8 following a memorial ceremony in the Avondale section of Cincinnati for the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Frank M. Gusweiler recently overruled a motion filed by the defense to try each defendant separately. All three were originally charged with first-degree murder, but a grand jury reduced the charges.

2 Protestant Groups Move Closer Together in Britain

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Two of Britain's Protestant churches moved closer together when the Congregationalists and the Presbyterian Church of England voted, at their assemblies in May, for union by 1970.

The new United Church, as it will be called, is expected to have nearly 300,000 members with 1,500 ministers serving 2,000 churches throughout England and Wales.

However, in approving unanimously the general principle of union, the Congregationalists made a reservation that final decisions about the form of church government as it affects a single pattern of eldership and the diaconate should be left until later.

This will be borne in mind when delegates from the two churches draw up their formal outline for union, which is expected to be ready by next year. The outline plan will then be studied by individual member churches of the two denominations before final acceptance, which is expected in 1970 with ratification following a year later.

The grouping together of Congregationalists and Presbyterians in the new United Church will mark the first occasion on which union is achieved between historically separated churches in this country. But the Church of England and the Methodists are discussing union, too.

There are about 260,000 Congregationalists in England and Wales. Presbyterians number under 40,000, although there are many more in Scotland and Northern Ireland, who are not affected by the present merger.

The laity is expected to be given an important role in the United Church, presiding at Holy Communion when necessary. Men and women will be strictly equal, with women also eligible for the ministry. Local churches will have lay elders chosen by the church to share in preaching and pastoral work.

New Building Moved to Fairgrounds

The newest edition to the Pickaway County Fair's physical facilities is 2,832-square-foot building which will house the garden, homemaking and hobby shows during the fair.

The building was originally the retail store room of Ankrom Lumber and Hardware. When the firm discontinued business about a year ago, the building became available.

Members of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society purchased and moved the building at a total cost of $6,005.62.

Fair board members say it would cost well over $31,000 to build such a structure today.

THE building was moved to the fairgrounds by Amos Valentine and the building and grounds committee of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society.

Richard Shaw, chairman of the building and grounds committee, said that through the cooperation of Circleville Mayor Richard Gerhardt, the police and fire departments, the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., General Telephone Co. and the Norfolk and Western Railroad the move through the middle of Circleville was made "without a hitch."

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay says Cleveland's recent spate of violence poses the questions of whether this country can recognize "the harsh facts about itself only when they are depicted by violence and bloodshed."

Lindsay, speaking Wednesday night before the Economics Club of Greater Hartford, said he thinks "fresh, decisive leadership" can end the civil disorder. But he also cautioned later in an interview that it is possible for racial rioting to develop across the country from a well planned plot.

Anglers Urged To Be Litter Conscious

Fred A. Schob, Wildlife District One Enforcement Supervisor, urges all fishermen to become more "litter conscious" this year when they are engaged in pursuit of their sport.

"Whether fishing in a state lake, city reservoir, or on private property," said Schob, "show proper respect for the property of others by cleaning up when you leave, items such as bait buckets, empty cold drink cans and bottles, sacks and other items accruing during the fishing trip."

"Adequate trash disposal barrels can generally be found adjacent to public waters," continued Schob, "and if you are on private property, taking your litter home for disposal will help ensure a place to fish."

Cassil Hurls Win for CAP

Mike Cassill held FOPA to four hits as Circle Auto Parts topped the Police team, 20-11, Thursday in Mosquito League.

Cassill walked eight and struck out nine going for the win. Rase was losing hurler, walking 18, fanning seven and giving up 17 hits.

Seek Money For NL Team In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Wanted: Two dedicated baseball backers with a total of $2,500,000 to invest in Montreal's infant National League team for 1969.

Charles Bronfman, vice chairman of the original board of seven backers, announced at a news conference Wednesday that chairman J. Louis Levesque, a Montreal financier, had advised Mayor Jean Drapeau and board members that he was withdrawing his support of the group.

Marc Bourgie, a wealthy funeral director, had announced Tuesday he was pulling out of the operation.

Montreal and San Diego were granted franchises by the National League May 27 and will operate next season as part of a 12-team, two-division league.

Bronfman and Webster—the only two members of the board on hand for the news conference—both said that Levesque had simply decided he wished to withdraw.

When the National League owners decided in favor of Montreal, the franchise was granted to the city. Gerry Snyder, energetic vice chairman of the Montreal's executive committee, made the pitch and then had to find backers for the proposed team.

"We as a group didn't ask to be in baseball," Bronfman said. "But when we were approached we thought of the good it could do for Quebec and Canada. American investors have a way of looking at things and it impresses them very much that major league baseball is in a city."

Neither Bronfman nor Webster ruled out the possibility of Lou Perini, former owner of the Boston and Milwaukee Braves and currently a director of the Atlanta team, entering the Montreal picture. Perini is a Boston construction magnate.

Telephone Talk Brings $50 Fine

A Circleville man was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court Thursday for using lewd language during a telephone conversation.

In addition to his year as commander, he served as vice commander of the state organization for two years. Also attending the meeting will be John Pat Hone, Department of Ohio Adjutant who will be the evening speaker.

Dr. Chakeres will install the following: Commander Ralph Wallace, First Vice Commander MacDonald Schumm, Second Vice Commander David Green, Finance Officer George L. FBI Notes 60th Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, born almost out of desperation and mired in its early years in political problems, is 60 years old today.

But the bureau planned no celebration. For the FBI's 16,000 employees it was just another work day.

Although the FBI of 1968 is one of the most controversial, efficient and—some say—powerful government agencies, it was founded almost as a desperation move July 26, 1908, by then Atty. Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte.

The Justice Department had been borrowing investigators from the Treasury Department's Secret Service to collect evidence for cases, but Congress prohibited that practice on May 27, 1908, and an independent agency was set up.

When Hoover—then 29—took over in 1924 the agency had become mired in the administration of political hacks.

A mule train coming through town would be expected to create a lot of excitement. Councilman Dave Crawford, although of Circleville, is highly respected in this area as he married a local belle. He was heard to remark that we were used to them here.

All I can remember about a mule train is the song by Frankie Layne, and not much of that. Just clippity clops and stuff about carrying chawing terbacker and gittars. I think he sort of gave away his age as none of us young people or even the other older fellows remember seeing one.

Horses are more popular here. Debbie Thompson and Sherry Billek come riding through town occasionally. We have a local 4-H club, Johnsons, down the Williamsport Pike, have nice looking horses which you've probably seen while passing by. Horses are a lot of fun to ride. A riding trail around the Deercreek Reservoir would probably appeal to a lot of people.

Yes, it has been hot. Fellow up the street tried to paint his house but it was so hot the paint would dry before he could get it out of the bucket. He then tried to wash his car but all he could get out of the water hose was steam. He just up and steam cleaned his motor ... nothing stops that guy.

The Park Committee met Tuesday night and elected officers. The President is June Keller with Ray Valone as Vice President. Red Hamrick has worked hard surveying the area. Work will start this Saturday marking grades for the drive and ball diamond. Ray Valone has offered the use of his construction equipment. The park will soon assume a different appearance. The Deercreek 4-H Clubs have already donated a picnic table which is on the site. It is hoped other organizations will take on a project. Community participation from Deercreek Township is anticipated and enthusiasm is running high. When everybody joins together like this the whole community shares in the sense of accomplishment.

Mae E. Chaffin, Circleville, is a patient in Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital.

This one I couldn't confirm and its too hot to drive up there right now. Someone told me that a popcorn patch up by Westfall blew up and covered the football field. He said boosters are urged to go up and eat all they can so football practice can start. Those boosters that aren't occupied doing this will be at their booth at the fairgrounds this week.

Telephone Talk Brings $50 Fine

A Circleville man was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court Thursday for using lewd language during a telephone conversation.

Anthony Kisor, Route 2, allegedly tried to make a date with Susie Bivens. Charges were filed by Mrs. Bivens' husband, Paul.

Ronald Nist, Route 1, Delaware, charged with aiding Kisor, had his case dismissed.

Dr. Chakeres first joined the Legion at Gary, Indiana, in 1946 and became a member of Madison Post 105 at London, Ohio in 1953. He was elected three times as post commander, and between those terms served in the top offices of the Sixth District, which includes seven central Ohio counties.

In addition to his year as commander, he served as vice commander of the state organization for two years. Also attending the meeting will be John Pat Hone, Department of Ohio Adjutant who will be the evening speaker.

Dr. Chakeres will install the following: Commander Ralph Wallace, First Vice Commander MacDonald Schumm, Second Vice Commander David Green, Finance Officer George L. Brown, Chaplain Claude Robinson, Sergeant-at-Arms Richard Hartinger, and Adjutant Walter Pickel Jr. The out-going commander is James W. Price.

The installation dinner will be combined with the welcome back to Roger L. Smith, the newly elected Department of Ohio Second Vice Commander.
